

CHARLIE ALLCOCK,
Business Development Director
Portland General Electric (PGE)

Charlie Allcock heads up the company's economic development team. He works with state, regional and local economic development organizations to enhance business growth, promote economic vitality, and attract new companies to the greater Portland and Salem area.

Allcock is leading initiatives on renewable energy and clean technologies including electric vehicles, solar, wind power generation, and energy storage. Allcock serves on the Oregon Transportation Electrification Executive Council and is playing a vital role in Oregon being recognized as a lead market for electric vehicles.