

Jeff Doyle is Director of Public/Private Partnerships for the Washington State Department of Transportation, a position he has held since 2005. He oversees a program that develops partnerships with the private sector to advance transportation projects, programs and policies. His office is currently implementing the West Coast Green Highway Initiative (www.westcoastgreenhighway.com), a partnership project that will provide the nation's first border-to-border network of fast-charging stations for electric vehicles. Jeff also serves as Co-Chair of Washington's Plug-In Vehicle Task Force.

Prior to joining WSDOT, Jeff served as Staff Director and Senior Legal Counsel to the Transportation Committee in the Washington State Legislature, where his work focused on transportation policy, finance and freight mobility issues. Jeff earned his B.A. degree in Political Science from Western Washington University, his Juris Doctorate from Seattle University, and has been a member of the Washington State Bar since 1991.