

Barbara Cosens

Barbara joined the law faculty at the University of Idaho in 2004, received tenor in 2009, and was promoted to full professor in 2010. She was the Shepard Professor for 2009-2010 at the College of Law. In 2009, she was the Stegner Young Scholar at the University of Utah. In 2008-2009 she received the William F. and Joan L. Boyd Teaching Award from the University of Idaho College of Law. She teaches Water Law, Water Policy, Law and Science, and Property Law and leads a team taught course in Interdisciplinary Methods in Water Resources. She is a PI on development of the new Water Resources graduate degree program at UI which includes options for concurrent J.D./M.S. and J.D./Ph.D. degrees. She represents the University of Idaho on the Universities Consortium on Columbia River Governance. Her research interests include the integration of law and science in water resource management and dispute resolution, water management and resilience, and the recognition and settlement of Native American water rights.