LT. GOVERNOR

November 7, 2014

On behalf of the State of Montana, I invite and encourage you to come to Big Sky, Montana for the Silver Anniversary 2015 Annual Summit of the Pacific Northwest Economic Region. We are honored that PNWER has chosen Big Sky, Montana to hold the Summit on July 12 – 16, 2015.

Montana is an active member of PNWER and actively promotes collaboration in the Pacific Northwest region through the close cultural, bilateral and multilateral links we have with our neighboring states and provinces that are part of PNWER.

This will be a wonderful opportunity to meet with key business and legislative leaders from ten jurisdictions in two countries, all who are interested in building innovative solutions to solve common challenges, and enhance the economy and lifestyle of our communities.

PNWER is a leader in fostering regional and international cooperation on priority issues such as agriculture, energy, the environment, disaster resilience, economic development, invasive species, trade, tourism, transportation and workforce mobility.

Join me in Big Sky next July for what promises to be an exciting conference that will bring together over 500 legislators, private sector and government leaders to share innovative solutions for our great region. And while you are here, take in some of Montana's spectacular, unspoiled nature, visit a vibrant and charming small town, and have breathtaking experiences by day, then enjoy relaxing hospitality at night.

I look forward to seeing you in Big Sky!

Sincerely,
